Springfield Choir

I have received the following information below from the Love Music Trust. If you are interested in attending then please contact them directly as it is an out of school activity and not organised by me. Thanks Loraine.

On Sunday 7th July they will be holding the first ever rehearsal of Noteworthy. It will be held at NASAT Church Lawton School between 9:30 am and 11:30 am. This brand new orchestra has been set up specifically for children with additional needs. Participants are not required to have any musical experience to join this orchestra as all training will be provided and even the instrument can be loaned if required. Musical experience is obviously welcomed as well. The aim of this group is to give young people an opportunity to play in an ensemble even if they've not had the chance before. Following this initial rehearsal in July, they will look to put on a rehearsal each half term from September 2019. Whilst the staff will oversee and support musical activities, for those students who require individual support we recommend that parents / carers remain in the session.

This is a very exciting, free opportunity and one not to be missed. All prospective participants must register at <https://www.lovemusictrust.com/noteworthy/> ahead of the event.
